

GENESIS II - THUS ESAU DESPISED HIS BIRTHRIGHT

August 25, 2024 Text: Genesis 25:1-34 Dr. Stephen Burrell

Unchecked appetites change the course of our life.

Appetites oversell the price of deprivation.

Appetites over promise the delight of indulgence.

Appetites make the common appear special.

Appetites diminish the value of sacred things.

Appetites cloud sound judgment.

Appetites are easily satisfied, and the driving motivation is quickly forgotten.

Living controlled by appetite leads to a wrecked life.

The Christian is called to live a disciplined life.
